Thank you

Thank you to all who have offered their views so far as to how the Church might best support future cohorts of clergy with retirement housing.

We appreciate your feedback.

We have now closed the online response form. It will take us some time to go through all the responses we have received, to help inform our next steps. In the meantime, should you have any further questions or reflections, please do not hesitate to contact us at enablingchoice@churchofengland.org.
