

In this week's blog, the Church of England Digital Team share their top recommended apps and tools for churches. From audio recording on your phone, editing videos for Instagram stories, to managing projects with teams, discover the tools we use in our own work, and in our work with local churches.

As always, we love to hear your recommendations! Tweet us @churchofengland and let us know what apps and tools you would recommend to other churches.

1. Google Analytics

If you have Google Analytics installed on your website, the mobile app provides a great way to access data quickly with an easy-to-use interface.

We recommend using Google Analytics on your website to monitor who is accessing your content and how people are engaging with it.

2. Mailchimp

If you're using Mailchimp to send emails out to your church, their app provides a really useful way to get summarised data surrounding your Campaigns and Audiences. Whilst we wouldn't recommend it for creating Campaigns, it's great as a follow-up tool once they've been sent.

3. Freshping

Whilst not technically an app for Android or iOS, Freshping is an online tool that you can use to monitor your websites for downtime. If you want to be the first to know of any issues affecting your websites, sign up for a free account and get notifications set up so that you won't find out about downtime through other people finding your website is offline.

4. Airtable

Spreadsheets galore! Airtable has advanced the spreadsheet game and is vital in my role. I rely on Airtable to plan, note and organise everything - you can alter the view from grid to the calendar which comes in very handy. Available as an app and through your browser.

5. Quicc.io

Technically not an app, but a great resource for video producers on the go. Quicc.io allows you to quickly get subtitles for your videos, either burnt-in or as a separate file. With an accuracy of over 90%, this is a really handy tool to create accessible Instagram Stories or IGTV content.

6. Canva

Whether you are cropping photos for social media or websites, or, creating graphics to share online and in print, Canva offers all the features you need. You'll find the free account versatile enough for your needs, however, if you are a registered charity, apply for a Free Pro account, to make use of the additional features such as creating Gifs and the magic resize.

12. Pantone Studio

If you are crazy for colour and you want to explore a universe of colour, look no further than Pantone Studio. This vital app for designers gives you the ability to generate harmonious colour palettes and match hues by extracting colour from imagery. However, if you are just a fan of black and white, this app is not for you...

16. Slack

An easy way to send messages, links, documents or the occasional gif within a team or to individuals. Keeps everyone up to date day-to-day, on projects or any channels you decide to create. Once set up, you'll find your team will send fewer emails and easily keep track of conversations.

Also perfect for online calls.

18. Voice Memos/ Voice Recorder

You'd be surprised by the audio quality your phone microphone can produce. Two apps are specified but any audio recording app would suffice. Just make sure to leave about a hand span between your mouth and the microphone and, if you can, do not hold the phone while recording but place it on a lectern or even a pile of books facing your mouth. Or place the phone in the middle of your Church hall to capture both the content and atmosphere of a sermon.

19. Auphonic

Auphonic is a free audio processor that can improve the quality of your sound recordings. Use the Adaptive Leveler to smooth out a recording that varies a lot in volume, and the Loudness tool to bring the overall level up similar to that of commercial productions. You can also reduce the MP3 quality if you need a smaller file size.
